

Montanans believe loss of access to public lands and waterways is a serious or very serious problem.

Values are in percentages

